LATER FROM EUROPE.

SURRENDER OF THE SHENANDOAH.

CAPTAIN WADDELL'S STATEMENT.

DOWNFALL OF CONFEDERACY NOT KNOWN TILL 30TH AUGUST.

THE MARKETS.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—The steamships City of London and New York have arrived at this port from Queenstown on the 9th inst.

Among other advices, they bring tidings of the arrival of the Confederate privateer Shenandoah in the Mersey, and her delivery to the English naval authorities.

Capt. Waddell, her commander, has officially proclaimed that the first information which reached him of the collapse of the Confederacy and the consequent close of the war, was on the 30th of last August, nearly three months since.

The London Star, in commenting upon the arrival and delivery of the Shenandoah, declares that if the United States Government claim the vessel, the British authorities can have no good reason for refusing compliance with the demand.

Lord John Russell has been installed in the Premiership and Lord Clarendon as the head of foreign affairs.

Liverpool, Nov. 8th, M.—Cotton had been flat and prices very irregular, although American was not quoted at any decline on previous statements. Other descriptions generally showed decline of half-penny on previous news. The sales for two days preceding sailing of steamers, amounted to 8000 bales, 2000 to speculators and exporters.

Important From Florida.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—President Johnson has just been advised by telegrah that the Florida State Constitutional Convention has even gone one figure in advance of his reconstruction policy.

The ordinance of secession has been annulled, slavery abolished, and a clause inserted in the fundamental law declaring that no person shall be incompetent to testify in the courts on account of color, in any judicial proceedings wherein freedmen are concerned.

Besides, the Confederate State debt was repudiated, and after various other important changes in the organic law, the convention adjurned.

New York Markets.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Cotton firm and to-day three thousand bales were disposed of at fifty-two to fifty-three cents.

Naval stores were quiet.

Gold forty-six and three-quarters premium.

Latest from Mexico.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—News received here says that Maximilian has issued orders for the withdrawal of all the Imperial forces from outposts and their concentration at three points, viz: Vera Cruz, City of Mexico and San Louis Potosi. The Liberals appear to be much comforted at the report that material aid will soon reach them.

LATEST BY MAIL.

Washington News and Rumors.

The President has appointed Hon. Chauncey M. Depew, of New York, Minister to Japan.

Hon. Freeman Clark, Comptroller of the Currency, is in favor of moving the Currency Bureau to New York city.

South Carolina wants to pay her Internal Revenue tax in State bonds, and not have any United States Collectors there, but Secretary McCullough says there is no law authorizing such an operation.

Supplies of the five cent currency will be sent South, where but little of it is in circulation; but no more will be transmitted at present to the North, the demand there not being so great as in the other sections of the country.

Owing to the many counterfeits in circulation, banking and other parties frequently send notes of large denominations to the United States Treasurer's office, asking whether they are not genuine. That office has not yet lost anything by counterfeits, its experts readily detecting spurious issues.

It is admitted that Mr. Schenck, of Ohio has no chance of a seat in the Senate, and that John Sherman will be the fortunate man. As matters look now, there is little prospect for the settlement of our claims against England in a manner satisfactory to the claimants.

It is understood that no successor of Mr. King as collector of New York will be named for some days. Parties are already here manœuvering in the matter. The appointment will doubtless be made in the Seward interest, though Secretary McCulloch will have something to say. R. M. Blatchford and Robert Denniston, formerly comptroller of customs are most prominently named for the position. In the meantime Mr. C. P. Clinch, assistant collector and special deputy under the law of 1799, will act as collector of the port of New York.

Reports just received at the Treasury Department from the agents stationed along the Canada frontier show that smuggling is still carried on to a very large extent. A large number of arrests and seizures are being made constantly. The inducements, however, are so great that if one-half gets through, the parties are amply remunerated. An agent who arrived here to-day says that the smugglers have been unusually active during the last two or three months.

There are reports again in circulation of cabinet changes, but it is regarded as nowise probable that any will be made until after the meeting of Congress. A well known Pennsylvania politician is being urged by his friends for Secretary of the Navy. The rumors of changes doubtless arose from this fact.

In a letter to the Navy Department, Lieutenant Whiting states that two men on a raft were recently discovered off Cape Hatteras. They were the only survivors of the fourteen men who escaped from the steamer Republic. They had been eight days without food or water. Some of the party were washed off, having no strength to hold on, and others, becoming insane, jumped into the sea.

It is reported that Gen. Logan will not accept the Mexican mission.

THE CITY.

☞Persons in city and country are requested, at all times, to furnish us verbal or written information of any events of public interest which may transpire in their neighborhoods, or of which they may have knowledge.

IMPORTANT TO BUSINESS MEN.—The DAILY PROGRESS will appear in new type and an enlarged form on Monday next, the 27th instant, and as we shall issue a large edition of our enlarged sheet to circulate gratuitously throughout the State, as a specimen copy, business men will consult their own interests by handing in their cards, so as to have them appear in that issue. We shall also revise our advertising rates with the enlargement of the paper, and we promise they shall be very moderate. Hand in your advertisements by Saturday next.

IMPORTANT REVENUE DECISION.—The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has decided that, by the act of June 30, 1864, as amended by the act of March 3, 1865, there is imposed a duty of 3 6-5 per cent. on State freestone, sandstone, marble, and building stone of any other description when dressed, hewn, or finished, and on marble and other monumental stones, with or without inscriptions, six per cent. ad valorem; all stones used in the outward structure of building bridges, aqueducts, reservoirs, wharfs, piers, monuments, fences, &c., if hewn or dressed, subject to the duty of 3 3-5 per cent. as building stone; gravestones and all monumental stones, whether of marble or other materials, with or without inscriptions, are regarded as manufactures, and subject to an ad valorem duty of six per cent. Monuments, such as the Bunker Hill Monument, Washington Monument, built by private subscription, or at the public expense to perpetuate the remembrance of battles or historic events, or to commemorate the services of heroes, statesmen, or public benefactors, are to be regarded as structures. The stones which enter into such monuments may be taxed as building stones, but the monuments or structures themselves are not taxable.

THE NEEDY POOR.—Some steps should be immediately taken by those of our citizens who are able to do so, to devise means and raise contributions for the support of the poor of Raleigh. Probably there are more needy families now sojourning here than have ever been know before, and yet we have heard of comparatively little effort being made for their relief. There are many persons here who have no money, nothing to do, nor any prospect ahead, yet their pride will keep them from making their wants known; while hundreds of others who have employment are so poorly paid that they are scarcely able to buy food with what they make. We counsel immediate, earnest action in this matter, for it cannot be long before cold weather will be upon us, and the suffering poor will then have to experience the rigors of the winter's frosts as well as the pangs of hunger.

This is the year, in which we should all seek to live a more liberal life than heretofore. It ought to be a point with those who may fortunately find themselves beyond the reach of want, to see that no one suffers for whom it is possible to make provision.

THE SMALL POX—FAVOURABLE REPORT.—Acting Assistant Surgeon Masson, whose statements are official as to the subject matter of his communication, furnishes a more favourable report of small pox in this vincinity than has been supplied by other authority. We publish his note with much satisfaction, as it will have a tendency to lessen alarm in and beyond our community:

FAIR GROUNDS FREEDMAN'S HOSPITAL,
Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 19th, 1865.

To the Editor of the Daily Progress:

SIR:—I have noticed in your paper of the 17th inst., an article under the title of small pox, that I deem to be erroneous. Your informant has been greatly mistaken when he speaks about small pox raging at Camp Holmes, Vinegar Hill and other places, to a considerable extent. The statement is not exact and as Surgeon attending Camp Holmes, Small Pox hospital and this hospital, I can certify that I have now very few cases under treatment at Small Pox Hospital, and none at all at Camp Holmes and none here.

Please, sir, let your readers know that there is nothing to create alarm in the few cases of small pox which come now and then in this place like in every other town amongst the number of other diseases.

I am, sir, very respectfully,
Your obedient servant,
LOUIS MASSON.
A. A. SURGEON, U. S. A.
in Freedman's Bureau.

MAKE A NOTE OF IT.—Dr. R. J. Powell, State agent at Washington city, requests us to state that his time is so constantly occupied in attending to the various matters intrusted to his care by North-Carolinians, that he has not the time to answer the numerous letters which he receives. He will promptly attend to everything intrusted to him, and will write to the applicants as soon as their cases are decided.

HEALTHY SIGN—The extensive liming which has been done in the immediate vicinity of Guion's old hotel. There are many other localities in the city where a similar deposit might be made with advantage.

THE INDIAN SUMMER—of which we boasted less than a week since, has taken wings. Yesterday old winter began his reign, and throughout morning and afternoon, instead of sunshine, we had cloud so dense that, like the fogs of Newfoundland, it might almost have been cut up in blocks and barrelled.

JAILED.—A negro named Boylan was arrested yesterday for stealing a pair of shoes, and, the proof of his guilt being clear, he was very properly jailed. the way of the transgressor is hard.

APPOINTMENT OF THE NATIONAL EXPRESS COMPANY.—We made brief mention, yesterday, of the selection of Col. W. R. Anderson for the Raleigh agency of the National Express company. To-day we are enabled to supply a complete list on the different lines of railway from and connecting with our city. In looking over the list, we do not find an objectionable name, but predict that each appointee, in his respective department, will prove efficient and win popularity with the public:

Raleigh Agent—Col. W. R. Anderson. Clerks—Lt. John McWilliams, R. F. Jones, Ed. Johnson, Wm. G. Briggs. Messengers—Lieut. P. H. Sasser, Lt. Geo. S. Hines and Thos. N. Richardson for N. U. R. R. Henry Hunter and B. M. Collins for R. & G. R. R.

Wilmington Agent—Gen. Robert Ransom.—Clerks—George W. Nelms, V. T. Ballard. Messengers—J. L. Bredin, Wm. J. Snead and Stephen W. Jones for Wil. & Wel. R. R.

Weldon Agent—J. B. Tilghman. Clerk—Geo. R. Weathers.

Goldsboro Agent—Frank Price. Clerk—Robert Freeman.

Newbern Agent—J. R. Nash. Clerk—Col. J. V. Jordan. Messengers—Capt. Hardy Lane, Lt. M. L. Stephenson, Lt. Jas. McKee, Atlantic and N. C. R. R., and Lt. Jno. Guthrie from Newbern to Morehead City.

Greensboro Agent—Col. J. McLeod Turner. Clerk—Chas. Terrell.

Salisbury Agent—Captain J. A. Ramsay.

Charlotte Clerk—Henry Faulkener.

The Route agents for N. Carolina are W. H. L. Nelms, Jno. T. Watts and Jos. O. White.

The advertisement of Col. Anderson, in another place, announces that the connections of the new company are now complete as to most of the prominent cities and towns, North and South.

IMPORTANT DECISION.—We understand that the County Court decided, during its session yesterday, not to count the vote, cast at the late election, for sheriff, county and superior court clerk. The validity of the election is not questioned, as we understood the case, but as the convention provided that the terms of the parties should begin only on the termination of the provisional government, and that contingency not having happened, there is no competent authority to decide the election or qualify the persons recently chosen for the positions mentioned.

Col. Russ, the present sheriff under appointment of Gov. Holden, was present during the session and took occasion to say that he was ready to relinquish the office at any moment his successor could qualify.

If this ruling is right and proper, we would like to hear authoritatively how the case will stand with members of the legislature. Were they chosen under similar contingencies?

RECOVERED.—We are glad to hear that our fellow citizen, Mr. Wm. H. High, residing at Spring Hill, has recovered the two horses stolen from his stables some time since. It appears the animals were purchased by a gentleman of Granville county, perhaps from the thief. The buyer, however, hearing of the facts in the case, promptly restored them.

THE LEAVEN of indignation against high rents is working well. We hope those who have the matter of the meeting of landlords and tenants in hand will soon publish their call for the assembling. It is by far the most important movement of the day to our people.

FUNERAL.—We invite attention to the fact that the funeral of Dr. Samuel T. Iredell takes place from the Episcopal church, and not the family residence as stated in the Standard. When the change was determined on, our neighbors had put their paper to press.

The Canadian Status.

It is said that intelligence has been received in Washington, from Toronto, Canada, which renders it evident that there was ample ground there for the worst apprehensions; that the prompt precautionary measures taken alone prevented a serious outbreak, and that the Canadian authorities received timely warning from a very high source here. They are now satisfied that our Government will not permit any violation of the neutrality laws. Additional bodies of Federal troops have been ordered to the frontier for that purpose.

Important, if True.

A Washington telegram of the 17th, speaking of the Cabinet meeting that day says:

Our claims against England, the [illegible] of the Canada frontier, the conditional [illegible] withdraw the French troops from [illegible] representation of the Southern States [illegible] are among the subjects discussed at the Cabinet meeting to-day. The President's proclamation, announcing the restoration of the Southern States to the Union, and their right to full representation in Congress, and also restoring the writ of habeas corpus will be issued before the end of November.

Postal Matters, South.

On Wednesday, the time for receiving bids for contracts in the mail service of Virginia, West Virginia, North and South Carolina and Florida transpired, and the formal awarding of the respective contracts to parties whose rates had been accepted is under way. The contracts about to be consummated for service in the above States will go into effect on the 1st of January, 1866, and expire in June, 1867. It is reported that all the bids made for this service have been largely in excess of the rates formerly in vogue for the same routes.

Previous to the final adjournment of the New York colored people's convention the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

"Resolved, That this convention is of the opinion that there should be a representation of colored men in the city of Washington from the different sections, to be there during the session of Congress, supported by the people, whose duty it should be to urge upon the members of Congress the importance of having the status of the colored American so fixed in the land that his color shall not be a bar to his occupying any position or to the enjoyment of all the rights that appertain to citizenship."

CAST A LINE FOR YOURSELF.—A young man stood listlessly watching some anglers on a bridge. He was poor and dejected. At last approaching a basket filled with wholesome looking fish, he sighed:

"If now I had these I would be happy. I would sell them at a fair price, and buy me food and lodgings."

"I will give you just as many and just as good fish," said the owner, who chanced to overhear his words, "if you will do me a trifling favor."

"And what is that?" asked the young man eagerly.

"Only to tend this line till I come back, I wish to go on a short errand."

The proposal was gladly accepted. The fisherman was gone so long that he began to be impatient. Meanwhile the hungry fish snapped greedily at the baited hook, and the young man lost all his depression in the excitement of pulling them in, and he had caught a large number. Counting out from them as many as were in the basket and presenting them to the young man, the old fisherman said, "I fulfill my promise from the fish you have caught, to teach you whenever you see others earning what you need, to waste no time in fruitless wishing, but to cast a line for yourself."

CATCHING A TARTAR.—Neglect your teeth and you will soon catch a tartar there. Manipulate them daily with that rare vegetable compound, SOZODONT, and neither tartar nor canker, or any dental disease can ever infect or injure either them or the red cushions in which they are inserted.

Nathaniel H. McLean, the former Assistant Adjutant General to General Burnside, who was ordered to the Pacific coast some two years ago, as he alleges, to prevent his testifying against Hartt, then about to be court martialed at Cincinnatti, is preparing to bring the case before Congress, and promises to throw much additional light upon that interesting transaction.

It is said the recent complaint to the Grand Jury against General Baker, Chief Detective of the War Department, originated in his raid on certain alleged pardon brokers, whom he accuses of fraudulent practices. The merits of the question will, however, be tested by the court.

—A drunken man name Gillespie, from Philadelphia, fell into the dock at Richmond, one day last week and was drowned. Not satisfied with too much whiskey, he took to much water also.

—A petition is being circulated in Richmond asking the President to parole James A. Seddon, now confined at Fort Pulaski.

—Pickpockets are operating very successfully about Richmond.

—The birds of every kind disappeared from Constantinople while the cholera was raging there.

—A Lady Somnambulist in London walked out of her bed chamber window and killed herself.

—Dan Rice erected a monument to the deceased soldiers from his town in Girard, Pa.

DIED,

In this city, on the morning of the 20th inst., Dr. SAMUEL T. IREDELL, in the 56th year of his age.

The friends of the family are invited to attend his funeral this afternoon at 3 o'clock, from the Episcopal Church.

RALEIGH. N C.

TUESDAY, NOV. 21, 1865.

Admonitions of the National Intelligencer.

We find in that calm and conservative journal, the National Intelligencer, that pattern alike of good manners and good morals, some admonitions addressed to both the Northern and Southern members of Congress, which they cannot do better than heed, when, after four years of separation, they shall once more meet together in the Federal capital. Says the Intelligencer:

"We have a word of advice to give to members elect to Congress from the South, and especially to such members as may not feel able to take the oath prescribed by the test-oath enactment—we will not call it a law, as applied to members of Congress—of July 2, 1862, and this advice is, that they shall not press for their seats, under any circumstances until after the organization of the House."

Again:

"To the South we respectfully say that perhaps a certain degree of self-respect and manly pride impels them, while yielding no right, to remain for a reasonable time on the outside of the Congressional body, which, in one sense, may be compared to a Court, or to a commission of gentlemen, to whom their case, to a certain extent, is referred by a large portion of the public sentiment of the country.—Nothing should be committed on the part of the South which can go to disclose that it is lust for power or office which induces her members here; but, on the contrary, that they assemble here and knock at the door of their father's house as erring sons, who desire to meet once again, never to separate, around the family altar and hearth, in the home of their love and of their choice, the home chosen for themselves and for their children and for their children's children. To this end the demands of a noble pride can be reconciled with every amount of concession on their part which does not yield constitutional questions that, in their gravity and importance, concern the Government itself."

The admonitions addressed to the Northern members are as follows:

"As victors, as conquerors at every point, as the overwhelming power, it becomes the North to receive the representatives from the South with all the distinguished consideration that belongs to the situation, and which has always graced the close of civilized wars in the conduct of victors charged with responsible posts, civil and military. This much is due from the North to the South as gentlemen, and this much is due to the dignity of the Government and to the records of history. Certainly we cannot afford, on an occasion so interesting as will be the assembling of the next Congress, on the close of the war, and under the dawnings of a peace that we all fervidly pray may be immortal—we cannot afford, at such a time, to present a spectacle disgraceful to civilization, and to the sublime part that America is enacting in the eyes of all the world. And such a spectacle we will present unless the representative statesmen of the land shall rise, in this particular, to the full altitude of the situation. How reproachful to us would be a record of sectional hate, of bitter and narrow prejudices, when all civilized mankind are looking either with affectionate interest and hope, or with derision, envy or hate, on the result of the experiment to consolidate the Union! Now that the party elections are over, if we are doomed to differ, let the difference be on high and compromissable State grounds—grounds that are rational and fairly debatable, and such as can be discussed and submitted to the ultimate tribunal with the calmness of argument, while we shall despise the rage of sectionalism, and the empty noise of mischievous demagogueism."

To both sections the Intelligencer thus speaks:

"And the course which we have suggested is due from gentlemen on all sides to the President of the United States, who is entitled to be relieved of every needless embarrassment. Let it never be forgotten that Andrew Johnson stands forth, not as the head of any perishing party whose organization is based on fleeting events, but that, as President, he is the representative of the Constitution and the political father of the whole people. He cannot afford to be angry with the excitable and the erring, nor can he quarrel with the political elements which are just as natural in the present state of our political world as are the laws that regulate the material universe.—There must be the ebb as well as the tide."

The Intelligencer thus closes its well-timed and well considered admonitions:

"For ourselves, we insist that if the President shall proclaim the South to be reorganized, that the Clerk of the House shall enter the names of all the returned Southern members on the roll, and that such shall retain their seats—unless plain reasons founded on necessity shall appear to the contrary—without reference to the test-act. But we much prefer that the Southern members, under all circumstances, shall wait outside of the House for a reasonable period after its organization—and this for the reasons which we have cursorily given."

THE Washington papers announce that Robert Tyler, late Register of the Confederate Treasury, has received his full pardon from the President. We are truly glad of this prompt clemency, not only because of the distinguished ability of the gentleman named, but from the additional consideration that, immediately after the fall of the Davis dynasty, he warmly espoused the idea that persons who had been officially associated with the military or civil establishments of the Confederacy should not appear in the outset as candidates for public trust.

Mr. Tyler is a son of Ex-President John Tyler—(peace to the noble old Roman)—and like a sensible man does not propose Brazil as his future home. He has engaged in the practice of his profession, the law, at Montgomery, Ala. His genius and learning, united to a noble heart, will make him popular anywhere.

Among the visitors registered at Nickerson's Hotel, Columbia, S. C., Wednesday last, were Hon. John Reagan, ex-Postmaster General of the late Confederate States, and Gen. J. C. [illegible] of the Confederate army.

THE EFFECT.—We repeatedly argued during the late canvass that a cheerful acquiescence in the measures of President Johnson, if not not essential to the restoration of the Southern States to the Union, would be hailed at the North as the highest evidence of the genuineness of our professed loyalty. In the case of South Carolina, the Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger says that the news from South Carolina has caused both surprise and pleasure. Her delegation to Congress, I am told, will be backed up vigorously by the President, no matter whether they can take the test oath or not, and so will the representatives of the other States when their Legislatures rally to the call of the Executive as the Palmetto has done.

Mrs. Fanny Murdaugh Downing.

This lady's new novel, "NAMELESS," is attracting much notice, from the Richmond Sentinel we clip the following:

"Mrs. Fanny Murdaugh Downing, well known to the Southern public as the "Viola," whose graceful productions so gracefully adorned the columns of our periodicals, among others the Magnolia and The Southern Illustrated News of this city, has just published "Nameless," a tale of English life which will add fresh honors to those already won.

The scene is laid in England, and shows an acquaintance with the life and manners of our "trans-Atlantic cousins" which is rarely equalled by one who was not raised there. Several of the characters are drawn up to life. We once knew a gentleman in Richmond, who is photographed in the character of Robert Hamilton, and many a sweet Lucy Talbot have we encountered in society. The plot is sufficiently intricate, and the interest of the story sustained throughout—in some instances intensely exciting. We take it for granted that all who read in this community will buy this charming book; hence, we do not feel inclined to destroy the zest by unravelling the plot. In "Nameless" little attempt is made at display. No resort to meretricious ornament, but all is natural and easy—as one conscious of power. Had we space we could extract a page or so as a taste, but we content ourselves for the present with recommending the book to all who take pleasure in novel reading. It is handsomely printed on clean white paper, and is very creditable to the publishers."

Garibaldi's Wife.

The story of Garibaldi's wooing is this:

He was one day sitting in the cabin of a sloop on the lake of Santa Catharina, and looking towards the shore, when suddenly he saw, at a farm house situated on a neighboring hill, three or four girls busily engaged in domestic duties. They were all remarkable for beauty, but one in particular arrested his attention for her uncommon grace and loveliness. He was still watching them when he received an order to go on shore. Immediately on landing he directed his steps to the house. He was admitted by the owner, whom he happened to know slightly, having met him once or twice before.

The impulse which had prompted him to go to the house was to address the girl he had so much admired. On seeing her he immediately besought her to become his wife. The girl, it seems, conceived an affection as warm and sudden as he had felt for her, and after the lapse of a few short days they were man and wife. The surname of this lovely Brazilian girl of the province of Santa Catharina, who became, under such peculiarly romantic circumstances the wife of Garibaldi, has never been revealed. In all the biographies of our hero she is alone mentioned by her Christian name of Amity. She seems to have been a brunett of rich warm complexion, with black and piercing eyes; of a beautiful rounded figure, and a sort of queenly majesty of deportment; active, daring, high spirited, and in every respect worthy of being the companion for life of such a man as Garibaldi.

Her courage was remarkable. A short time after their marriage she went through an engagement at sea with her husband, refusing to go ashore, and during the fire would stay nowhere but on deck, where she wielded a carbine and cheered the men. In the heat of the battle she was standing on deck, flourishing a sabre and inspiring the men to deeds of valor, when she was knocked down by the wind of a cannon ball that killed two men standing by her side. Garibaldi was springing forward to her, thinking that he would find her a corpse, when she rose to her feet, covered with the blood of the men who had fallen close to her, but quite uninjured.

He begged her to go below and remain there till the action was over. "I will go below," was her reply, "but only to drive out the sneaking cowards who are skulking there;" for only a few seconds before she had seen three men leave the deck and hurry rapidly down the hatchway, so as to escape out of danger of the storm of bullets that was sweeping the deck. And, going below, she immediately after reappeared, driving before her the three men, overcome with shame that they should have been surpassed in courage by a woman. She accompanied her husband in all his undertakings, and died while flying with him from the Austrians.—[Californian.

HOW TO BE AGREEABLE IN A PRINTING OFFICE.—The following, from the Reading Record, is equally applicable to those who are in the habit of visiting the sanctums of the PROGRESS office, especially in the forenoon of each day:

If you want to make yourself very agreeable in a printing office, step into the sanctum first. If the editor is writing or proof reading, take a seat alongside of him, and tell him how you started in business, about your dog, your horse or your wife and baby, or all you can remember about your school boy sports. Should the editor manifest a disposition to be inattentive to your story, stick to it, and go through with it. Should one of the compositors, or the "devil," step up and ask for copy, or whether the proof is read, or if either is done, you should, by all means, ask what the article is about, and insist upon seeing it. Of course the editor will read it for you, and profit by your opinion as to its fitness to go into the columns of the paper.

The following bit of information will be of interest if you desire to go a step further, to entertain the printers:

Step into the composing room and ask each one of the hands as many questions as to the cases, letters, &c., as may be agreeable to yourself. Then begin to whistle. All printers are fond of whistling.—Give them at least three or four jigs. Then ask the foreman whether he hasn't a quarter or so, to treat. If you don't do that he will feel slighted if he is a true man. Before leaving the office you should take hold of the hand press—give it a pull and let it fly back, just to see how it works. If possible give the power press a turn and don't forget to examine everything in the shape of matter on the stone, even if you should, knock some of it into pi—they will only put the patience of the printer to a fair test.—When you leave the office, be sure to promise another visit by to-morrow or next day, and our word for it you will not be forgotten by the printer for a long while.

—A FLOATING PALACE.—The "Mary Powell" the fastest steamer on the Hudson, was sold a few days since for $300,000.

State Items.

We learn from the Wilmington Journal that the steamship Twilight was abandoned during the forenoon of Wednesday, and that she was rapidly going to pieces on the spot where she originally grounded. None of her cargo had been saved up to latest accounts. A large portion of it, however, had been washed overboard and was drifting in the sea.

TO LOCAL MINISTERS.—Dear Brethren:—A Convention of local ministers met in the city of Raleigh, on the 26th of August, 1864, for the purpose of interchanging sentiments and holding on such policy as would tend to improve and elevate this particular class of the Methodist ministry. W. K. Lane was appointed President, L. Branson, Secretary, and W. H. Cuninggim, Treasurer of the Convention. This committee was appointed to correspond with the brethren, and call the Convention together again at the earliest favorable time. In pursuance of this duty, we have found our co-laborers generally zealous in doing good and favorable to forming the local ministry into some kind of an association to meet annually or oftener, that we may thus mutually improve ourselves, and devise plans for more effectually working in our holy calling. We now notify the Convention, together with local ministers generally, to re-assemble in the city of Raleigh on the 8th of December, during the meeting of the North Carolina Annual Conference.

McIlhenny, examined at Wilmington upon the charge of shooting and killing Lane, was admitted to bail in the sum of $5,000 to appear before the first court having jurisdiction of the case.

The Green Swamp Company of North Carolina have recently sold thirty thousand acres of land in this State to an emigration society, the contract for which contains a proviso to the effect that the land sold must be subdivided into lots of one hundred acres each, and on these tracts families will be induced to settle.

We regret that we have to record, says the Yanceyville Intelligencer, the accidental burning of a stable on Mr. Geo. Glass' premises. Two elegant carriage horses of his were on that occasion burned to death.

The Mormons Rampant.

According to late advices from Salt Lake City, the Mormons are taking higher ground in defence of polygamy, and even speak of the possible necessity of employing arms. Thus Smith, one of the twelve apostles, is reported as saying, on Sunday, August 28, that "the South was right; the Northern army burned and destroyed everything in the South, and abused by force all their women. They would be here some day to treat the fair women of Utah in like manner. Old and young should have plenty of arms. God would fight their battles, and the Saints would be victorious." Moreover, Brigham Young himself, in a sermon at the same time, uttered the following sentences:

"He was ready to fight the government. He had his soldiers, and rifles, and pistols, and ammunition, and plenty of it, and cannon too, and would use them. He was 'on it!' The Governor or this Territory was useless and could do nothing. He (Brigham) was the real governor of this people, and by powers of the Most High he would be governor of this territory forever and ever. If the Gentiles did not like this they could leave and go to hell."

A long account given by Richardson, the well-known correspondent, writing from Salt Lake City, closes with the following recapitulation:

1. Brigham and his associates are living in open, defiant violation of the laws of the United States.

2. They are teaching to their followers intense hostility to our government and people, and the necessity and duty of resisting by force of arms any attempt to make the law operative.

3. They are drilling and arming the entire people into a compact and efficient military organization.

4. The government places and keeps in important Federal offices, men who flagrantly violate the law and systematically perjure themselves in taking the oath of office. Not only does the public interest suffer financially, not only are the ends of justice frustrated, but our highest law-making authority has solemnly enacted that polygamy is a crime, and the government makes itself accessory to that crime.

PARDONS, &c.—Applications for pardons are still coming in at the rate of a thousand per week. The President has signed nearly all the warrants issued from the State Department, and for sometime hereafter will only attend to a few special cases, the near approach to Congress necessitating the transaction of more important business. It is understood that he designs pardoning all except about 1,000 of the civil and military leaders, whose fate will depend on the action of Congress. A general amnesty excepting these cases is not deemed expedient, as the announcement of a proscribed list would not only create dissatisfaction throughout the country but still further embarrass the President by arraigning against his policy a powerful combination of the friends and sympathizers of the excepted applicants.

—The Altoona Tribune tells of a girl who was running off to lead a circus life, being pursued by her friends, and who jumped from the train while making thirty miles an hour. The train was stopped and backed, with the expectation of finding her a mutilated corpse, but her crinoline had caught in the wind and saved her from even the slightest injury.

—M. Caminade, a Frenceman, recently obtained a patent for his discovery of a substitute for rags in the manufacture of paper, consisting of the root of the lucern plant, showing, when dried and beaten, thousands of very white fibres, which form an excellent paste for paper makers.

—A dog and bear fight was produced recently upon the stage of the opera house in Virginia, Nevada. The bear, though a fresh young cub, whipped all the dogs set up no him; and the audience became disgusted, and stopped the fun.

—Some of the enterprising iron and lead foundries of Birmingham, England, it is said, have lately been driving quite a brisk business in casting heathen (bronze) gods, and shipping them off to India, where they meet a ready market.

—One of the costumes at a watering place fancy ball is described as "a lace shawl and diamonds."

—Abd-el-kader bought several thousand dollars worth of doll babies for his wives while in Paris.

—Newburyport's clam banks furnished $19,000 worth of clams last year.

—The cigar ship so long been building in England has been launched.

—Tom Thumb has been sued for an income tax in England.

—The king of Holland narrowly escaped being struck by lightning recently.

—Aroostock, Me., is reported as enjoying late strawberries and fifteen inches of snow.

The Atlantic Rail Road.

We found it proper, a few days since, as friends of the improvement, to direct the attention of the management of the Atlantic Rail Road to the frequent complaints made by merchants and others in this city, in regard to the detention of their goods beyond a period which they believed requisite to their reception. The Newbern Times copies the paragraph of the PROGRESS, and follows it up with the following explanatory comments, which represent the true reason of such delays:

Judging from the quantity of goods that were taken to the depot yesterday, we suppose the difficulty of forwarding them has been removed.

The quantity of goods which have been received and are now being received, is immense. Without an examination of the different warehouses through the city, no one can realize the immense quantity of goods which have been received. We learn from the agent of one of our steamship lines, that in future all goods received from the steamer will be delivered at the depot; heretofore the depot has been so crowded that it has been impossible to do it.

We are aware that the managers of this road labor at the present time, under very great disadvantages. They have but recently gotten possession of and found it in as bad condition, almost, as it was possible for it to be—so far as the rolling stock is concerned; with proper energy, however, they will be in a very short time to make it meet the most extreme demands that may be made upon it.

Of course other lines of communication between the Northern cities, the outer world generally, and the interior of this State are anxious to secure as much of the legitimate business of this road as they can, and, prompted by the instinct of human nature, their agents and managers are supposed to be, they will try, by fair or foul means, or any means they can, to get it.

But the advantage is so decidedly with the A. & N. C. R. R. and the Hatteras navigation that it will be very difficult for the advocates of other routes to overcome them.

Parties living in the interior, by shipping goods direct to Newbern, or produce direct from Newbern, save from twenty-five to fifty miles of railroading over any other route that can be adopted, and from 100 to 150 miles of water navigation over most of them. So that in every point of view, this is the shortest, cheapest and most expeditious line of communication, and will continue to receive the largest share of patronage.

—The Pittsburg Commercial is of the opinion that the "Tylerizing" of Andrew Johnson has been postponed indefinitely.

BURNING OF THE MUSEUM!
LETTER FROM MR. P. T. BARNUM!
New York, July 14, 1865.

Messrs. Herring & Co.:

GENTLEMEN—Though the destruction of the American Museum has proved a serious loss to myself and the public, I am happy to verify the old adage that "It's an ill wind that blows nobody good," and, consequently, congratulate you that your well-known safes have again demonstrated their superior fire-proof qualities in an ordeal of unusual severity.

The safe you made for me some time ago was in the office of the Museum, on the second floor, back part of the building, and in the hottest of the fire.

After twenty-four hours of trial it was found among the debris, and on opening it this day has yielded up its contents in very good order—books, papers, policies of insurance, bank bills, all in condition for immediate use, and a noble commentary on the trustworthiness of Herring's Fire-Proof Safes.

Truly yours,
P. T. BARNUM,

HERRING'S PATENT CHAMPION SAFES.
The most reliable protection from fire now known.

TUESDAY, NOV. 21, 1865.

The Rose and the Heart.

The rose within its emerald sheath
May dream of sun and shower,
And thrill with prophecies of all
That waits the perfect flower;
With beautiful dim shadowings
Of all she pants to win;
Her flushed cheek pressed against the cage,
Whose green bars keep her in,
While round her sealed lips in vain
Still reels the baffled bee,
And at her prison gate the breeze
Sings open love to me!
Oh, high aspiring soul of youth!
With wild bright visions filled
Oh, dainty heart of maidenhood!
With vague sweet fancies thrilled—
Are ye not like the bud that pines
For sun, and breeze, and dew,
Swelling her crimson heart to break
Her green enclosure through?
Fret ye not thus against the bars
That fain would hold you in,
And see a glory like the stars
Round all you pant to win?
Ah, little recks the rose to clasp
The sunlight is to die;
That rifling winds deflower, and bees
To other blossoms fly!
And little dreams the heart of youth
How many bitter stings
Their joys conceal, how small the bliss
That ever fruition brings,
But vain the counsel reason gives
The wisdom of the sage,
Thy stern and lore Experience
The warning voice of Age;
For still the folded bud will pine
For wind, and shower, and beam,
And still the wild, warm heart of youth
Will love, and hope and dream.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU for non-retention or incontinence of Urine, Irritation, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Bladder or Kidneys, disease of the Prostrate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel or Brick Dust Deposit, and all diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys and Dropsical Swellings.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU FOR WEAKNESS ARISING FROM EXCESSES OR INDISCRETION.

The constitution once affected by Organic Weakness, requires the aid of medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which Helmbold's Extract Buchu invariably does. If no treatment be submitted to, consumption or insanity may ensue.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, in affections peculiar to females, is unequaled by any other preparation, as in chlorosis or retention, irregularities, painfulness or suppression of customary evacuations, ulceration or scirrhous state of the Uteras, Leucorrhœ, and all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from habits of dissipation, imprudencies, or in the decline or change of life.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH, will radically exterminate from the system diseases of the urinary organs arising from habits of dissipation, at little expense, little or no change in diet, and no exposure, completely superseding those unpleasant and dangerous remedies, Copaiba and Mercury, in curing those unpleasant and dangerous diseases.

USE HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU
in all cases of the urinary organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing. It is pleasant in taste and odor, immediate in its action, and more strengthening than any of the preparations of bark or iron.

Those suffering from broken down or delicate constitutions, procure the remedy at once.

The reader must be aware that however slight may be the attack of the above disease, it is sure to affect his posterity. Our flesh and blood are supported from these sources.

PHYSICIANS, PLEASE NOTICE!
We make no secret of the ingredients. Helmbold's Fluid Extract Buchu is composed of Buchu, Cubebs and Juniper Berries, selected with great care, and prepared in vacuo by H T HELMBOLD, Druggist and Chemist of sixteen years' experience in the city of Philadelphia, and which is now prescribed by the most eminent physicians, has been admitted to use in the United States army, and is also in very general use in State Hospitals and public Sanitary Institutions throughout the land.
